There is no subject relating to the early history of our country so little understood as the introduction and authority of English law and English legislation—by charter or otherwise—into the original colonies, which now compose, in part, these United States; and yet the history of this sphicet lies so near the surface that it is more than a subject to the circumstances of infant and remote colonies;" that their distance rendered them destitute of any support frem the crown, which, together with many other inconveniences in the want of means of application to the national legislature for redress of grievances, must continually have manifested themselves under such circumstances. strictly to their contracts, or, what amounts to ance. the same, charge extra for all over and above. Some of our advertisers have been getting about | count-Central America was no party to it. Engtwice as much as their contracts called for; we land and the United States were bargaining about cannot permit it any longer. See our published terms.

The editor of the Louisville Journal has discovered, and it pains him to say it, that our a piece of impertinence in us to make such a when the plan for organizing the Works will be Administration has trifled most rashly and heartlessly with the true interests of the country. Who would not sympathize with the editor in his grief on being compelled to say as much. We see the writer tossed in anguish on his restless couch whilst he is making up his mind to the disagreeable duty of saying that the present Administration has trifled rashly and heartlessly with the peace and true interests of the country. And now that the editor has performed the painful duty, how sorry he must feel! The editor is very decidedly of opinion that the offer to refer the question to some third power was duly made. A suggestion thrown out in conversation is a serious affair! The editor, we are grieved to say, grieved as much as he was in performing the painful duty, is in a very small minority in this opinion of his. This country does not intend to accept such an offer, we presume. If the third power should deeide that England could keep all she has and pretends to have in Central America, and that we were at the same time bound to acquire nothing in that quarter, we should have a beautiful affair in the said treaty. The right way, if it be plain that England misunderstood us when the treaty was ratified, and we her, is to throw the treaty amongst the waste papers of the past, and make another, or leave the question to manifest destiny. Not a man in the Senate understood the treaty as England now interprets it when it was ratified. According to our understanding, England is liv ing in open violation of a treaty solemnly made with us, and such a fact could not be overlooked. Buchanan brought the subject to the notice of the British government, as he was in duty bound to do-The discussion was soon exhausted, and there it rests. There is not a particle of rashness or heart. lessness about the transaction. We are no nearer a fight than when the correspondence began. The treaty can be easily cancelled, since it is not an | sending him the quills of an eagle to write his agreement, and never was, but a cheat that one party understood one way and the other another.

If England understood it as we did, or as the Senate of the United States did when they ratified it, it still ought, if possible, to be cancelled. We would not, for the sake of inducing England to abandon the trifle she has, bind ourselves never to colonize Central America. Perhaps we may want to reannex that country some day, and we want no old treaties in the way to block up the natural progress of things.

Let our government propose to cancel the treaty, or declare it cancelled, if it can't be cancelled otherwise. As we have said before, it is an impertinent and lawless affair at any rate. If Nicaragua had been a powerful empire, neither the United States nor England would have attempted to treat about a work to be constructed on her soil without first consulting her. It was only a weak State, aiming to be a Republic, and we, along with England, treated it with contempt. The treaty is affair, only fit to breed a quarrel overought never to have been made, and ought now to be expunged from our records.

Clarendon made a speech in Parliament, which even Englishmen will see misrepresented the case. He is a careless old dunderhead, as his correspondence on the enlistment question shows. He made facts and his own letters. He had offered to arbitrate! A casual suggestion he and his advocate ington, Ky. of the Journal pretend to construe into a formal proposition to negotiate. Buchanan gives a sufficient reason for not treating the suggestion seriously. If Clarendon had been in earnest why did he not formally propose in writing a reference to arbitration? To this neither Clarendon nor his advocate of the Journal can make any reply. He had made no such formal offer, and surely it was not Buchanan's place to invite one, since he did solved to sustain their position by a vote of nine-worthy gentleman—the Recorder of the citynot expect his country would accept it.

The Fillmore Men on the Other Side of the River.

We are informed by Know-Nothing papers that several editors over the river support the nomination of Fillmore. Here is one-Gregg, of the New Albany Tribune. He is the editor of the Louisville Journal's good friend Gregg. Several of the anti-Fillmore Know-Nothing and Republican papers have taken him to task for his defection from the cause of freedom. He thus defends himself:

Again we ask, in what does it propose to concede the Nebraska issue? Is a mere preference for Mr. Fillmore conclusive evidence that a man is giving up his anti-Nebraskaism? How know you that Mr. Fillmore does not fully sympsthies with us in our opposition to that stupenaous swindle of Douglas & Co.? All his antecedents are on the side of freedom, and in opposition to the extension of slavery. Have you ever read a message—have you ever heard a speech—have you ever seen a letter—has even a private conversation of his been whispered in your ear, that would justify the conclusion that he was now a pro-slavery man in sentiment, and that he would not sanction a measure for the restoration of the Missouri compromise, or the admission of Kansas as a Free State? If you have seen or heard anything of the kind, let us have it. We demand to know the founcation of your faith, before you again indulge in such injurious imputations towards the candidate of the American party.

The Journal has not pretended to quote a single word from Mr. Fillmore on this subject, and perhaps will not. The nearest it has come to it is, to quote an extract from a supposed speech of Donelson, in which he gives it as his opinion that the Missouri compromise cannot be restored without violating vested individual rights, that have aiready been acquired under the Nebraska act. We have asked the aditors of the Journal to tell us when and where this speech was made; but they have not yet vouchsafed a reply. Again we prefer the same request, and trust they will no longer ignore it.

Let the Louisville Journal say whether it is so understood that Mr. Fillm ore is in favor The Louisville Journal may answer as it pleases, but t will not alter our posicion in the least We hold that It wish not alter our position in the least. We hold that it is the duty of Congress to pass laws, and the duty of the President to approve and execute them, unless there are grave constitutional objections to their being carried into effect. The repeal of the Nebraska bill, or rather the repeal of that chause of it which abrogates the Missouri compromise, being a mere question of policy, we suppose Mr. Fillmore will consider it his auty not to interfere with the legislation of Congress, by urging its passage, or by defeating it, by an arbitrary exercise of the veto power. As Gen. Taylor well said in his Allison letter, "the personal opinions of the individual who may happen to occupy the executive chair ought not to control the action of Congress upon questions of domestic policy." That was the doctrine we preached when Mr. Fillmore was elected before, and that is the doctrine we contend for still.

The sequel to this miserable affair is now well known. The adjustment needs adjusting a great deal worse than the business did before the treaty was made. England holds that the treaty was prospective, and does not require her to abandon her possessions already acquired. She claims the Bay Islands, and the protectorate of the Mosquito coast, whilst we hold that she bound herself to relinquish her ill-gotten gains in that region. Our interpretation seems plain enough, from the terms of the treaty, and upon that interpretation it was certainly didn't ratify the treaty with any other for life. this wonderful treaty. They are now at loggerheads about it. The plain course, it seems to us, s to cancel the treaty by common consent, and begin afresh. It is not worth while for this country to hasten manifest destiny. The influence of the United States in Central American affairs must grow stronger annually; whilst that of Great Britain must grow weaker. We lose nothing by delay. We should not tolerate unjust pretensions, that interfere with our rights in that region -but there is no hurry. Let the treaty go. It mposes restraints upon us that we ought to be rid of. Whether we ever colonize Central Amerirca or not, we should not bind ourselves not to de it. England might well assume such an obligation, but to expect us to do so, to compensate for her self-denial, is quite an unequal bargain.

The Fillmore nomination gave a kind of spasmodic action to the intensely twelfth sectionists in these regions; but when the proceedings of the Philadelphis Convention came to hand, they appeared awfully white about the gills, and you may now hear them say that they don't care anything at all about politics—the parties are all corrupt. The Austin State Gazette of the 23d says. "We have lost an immense number of cattle this season by the severity of the winter. The raisers say it has been the hardest winter upon stock in Texas they have ever experienced. The carcases of dead animals may be seen scattered over all our prairies. We may expect to see a large number die off from sickness in the spring. The grass is beginning to put out slowly, and, although far behind last season, a little moderate weather wil soon rapidly bring it forth, and carpet with green all our hills and valleys.

We have a splendid stock growing country, and had a little care been taken last summer in saving prairie grass, and putting up hay, we would not have experienced anything like the present less.— But we never prepare for winter, and our cattle have entirely to depend upon their powers of enduring starvation for a limited season, for surviving the winter. Enterprising stock growers will see this mistake of ours, and profit by it, in laying up hay for winter use. With us it costs nothing but labor, and with a machine mower w can gather an immense amount with but a small outlay for hands.

[For the Louisville Democrat.] To the Citizens of Jefferson County. At a meeting held at the school house, on the Bardstown turnpike, seven miles from Louisville, on the 27th ult., I was denounced and requested by resolutions there adopted, to settle my business, and leave Kentucky in six months. As I am not conscious of having done anything wrong, I earnestly request the citizens who passed these resolutions, to again assemble at the same place, on Tuesday, the 18th of March, at I c'clock P. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Causion to Western Merchants! WOLFE'S cres, lying near Hobbs's Depot, on the Louis Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps. This celebrated medicinal beverage is manufactured at the factory of the undersigned, at Schiedam, Holland. He is the sole importer, as well as the exclusive manufacturer of the article; and no preparation bear ing the name of "Schnapps," that is not procured either from his establishment in New York, or from his gents in other cities, is genuine and reliable. It is made from barley of the finest quality, selecte with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts; is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit very acrid particle. As a means of preventing and correcting the disa-greeable and often dangerous effects produced upon he stomach and bowels by a change of water-a visit tion to which travelers, new settlers, and all unaccli-mated persons in the west, the south, and southwest are peculiarly liable—the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of tropsy, gravel, obstruction of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most dist guished members of the medical profession. It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country mer-UDOLPHO WOLFE, cants.

Necessaries of Life. Flour, Whisky, and Tobacco have long been regarded enecessaries of life—but it is a mistake. We can't uy Flour—that is, Daguerreotypists can't—for it is too lear; the temperance men wont let us drink Whisky, and the Tobacco crop is a failure. What we can't get it is plain we must do without, and what we can do without is not a necessary. The provert, then, is a false. hood. For the cure of Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheu-natism, and Blood Impurities generally. MIDDLETOWN, JEFFERSON CO., Ky., Aug. 13, 1855.

Dr. Vaughan—Dear Sir: In the summer of 1852 I had a young black boy, about two years old, severely afflicted with an eruptive disease of some kind. His shole body, and more especially his head, arms, and legs, were one mass of running matter. I had lost two children about the same age, and of the same parents, with the same kind of eruptions, and I feltsure this one would also die; but, luckily, I was recommended to use your "Dr. Blackwell's Sarsaparilla and Versicola," which I am happy to inform you, from the use of some fiveor six bottles, entirely cured him.

Respectfully yours,

LOUISVILLE, KY., March 31, 1855.

Dr. Vaughan—Dear Sir: I have used "Dr. Blackwell Sarsaparilla and Versicola" for a chronic disease of the stomach and liver, with severe constipation of the bowels and tendency of the blood to the head. I take great pleasure in recommending it as a superior alterative and blood purifier. It acts as a gentle cathartic, and is pleasant to the taste.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, March 14. SENATE-Petitions were presented from the merchants and importers of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, asking a revision of the tariff.

Mr. Johnson reported in favor of printing thirty-one thousand copies of the majority and minority report of the Committee on Territories on the Kansas case, it being five hundred to each member.

Mr. Trumbull opposed the motion. He thought Mr. Trumbull opposed the motion. He thought the minority report presented the slavery question in a masterly manner. Its positions are unan-swerable, but it did not enter into details as the majority report; hence he was unwilling to send out, with the Senate's indorsement, a document containing as warm any apprained assumptions. Mr. Trumbull opposed the motion. He thought ontaining so many unwarranted assumptions, er-Mr. Wade asked Mr. Trumbull to yield the floor

Mr. Wade asked Mr. Trumbull to yield the Boor for adjournment.

Mr. Douglas—I hope not. The courtesies of the Senate have been taken advantage of on account of my absence to make an assault on me.

Mr. Trumbull—No, sir; I knew not whether you were present or absent. I was commenting on the report. I did not introduce the subject, nor did I know it would come up to-day.

Mr. Douglas—My colleague dares to say in the face of the fact, that he did not know I was absent. He acted with unfairness in attacking the report when I was detained from the Senate by eport when I was detained from the Senate by l health. I would ask him within what reasonable time will his speech be printed?

Mr. Seward—Take your own time.

Mr. Seward—Take your own time.

Mr. Douglas (quickiy)—I understand that game,

"take your own time." The Senator from Massachusetts took his own time to write and circulate a libel on me about the time the Nebraska bill was reported. I understand my colleague to say that to the Demogracy of Illinois, and is a libel on the to the Democracy of Hilmoly, and is a libel on the Democracy of that State.

Mr. Crittendon interposed, saying that the debate was transcending the rules of decorum. The Senator had charged a libel on Mr. Trumbuil.

Mr. Douglas-I should have been better satis Mr. Douglas—I should have been better satisfied if the Senator from Kentucky had, when the Black Republicans denounced us in coarse terms, rebuked them for want of courtesy.

Mr. Crittenden—To what do you allude?

Mr. Douglas-When they made vulgar, coars partisan assaults on the Democratic side of the Mr. Crittenden-'Twas no more my businthan that of others, to call Senators to order for personalities. This is not the place for vituperapersonalities. This is not the place for vitupera-tion. It should be settled elsewhere.

Mr. Douglas—I do not regard the Senator a good authority in Illinois politics. I was speak-ing of events of which I was better capable of udging than he.

[There was a further collequy, when the Chair lecided that Douglas' remarks were not personal.

of Abolitionists and Know-Actinings, who are one and the same thing.

Mr. Crittenden—I want the Senate to understand that I oparate with the American party, standing as a gentleman and Senator in absolute independence; and claiming all the respect due to nonesty as a freeman, I repel with scorn every imputation of that kind, as intended to embrace was and my relitical associates. ne and my political associates.

me and my political associates.

Mr. Douglas (explaining)—I spoke of what I know Kow-Nothingism is in Illinois, and said it might be otherwise in the South. Every Know-Nothing Lodge in Illinois adopted the Abolition creed, and that is the miserable faction which sent my collegue here. The Senator from Kentucky inderstood me, else he would not have conceive ed that my remarks were personal towards him.

Mr. Douglas—Every gentleman must have understood me as making a distinction. I said nothing about Southern know-Nothings.

Mr. Trumouli—I shall not permit such remarks as these from my colleague to pass unanswered. I shall suffer no man here or eisewhere to state of me things which are absolutely and totally unfounded. If he means to say that I am or ever have been a Know-Nothing, or connected with any o speak of the polities of Illinois, claiming that the is and always has been Democratic.

The Washington correspondent of the Courier and Enquirer says, it is understood that the Central American negociations will not be referred until after a settlement of the enlistment difficulties. These are then to be conducted in Washington on a basis of an entirely new treaty.

The previous question is to be moved in the Kansas debate to-morrow in the House. The Republicans have an estimated majority of one. The Democrats favor Mr. Dunn's proposition of a Congress commission to take testimony.

ALL KINDS OF LIQUOR CAN BE MANUFACTURED FOR 12 TO 50 CENTS PER GALLON.

A N OUTLAY OF $2 WILL FUR into the strongest Vinegar in 36 hours, at a cost of two to three cents per gallon.

The only vessels necessary for this purpose are Wine or Whisky barrels. The substances with which they are filled, for the purpose of making Vinegar, can be found in any of the forests of America. As simple as this process may appear for the production of Vinegar, the publishers will forfeit $100 for every failure.

The most approved methods are given for constructing Rectifiers. Complete instructions for bottling and barreling all kinds of highors, and for rendering the appearance of old barrels new, and for giving age to new barreling all kinds of highors, and for rendering the appearance of old barrels new, and for giving age to new barreling all kinds of highors, and for distinguishing French from other quantities or adulterations in all kinds of liquors, and for distinguishing French from the quantities of Brandy. Of the liquors mentioned below, this book gives two modes of making them; by the first they are made "of hand," requiring only the acmixture of the materials as given in the receipts. These are cheapliquors; their qualities will be artificial strength, fine taste, and beautiful color. The second mode requires the use of apparatus, and a certain length of time is allowed for the spirit to mellow. These cannot be distinguished from the best imported in any of the content of the materials as given in the receipts. quors, wines, vinegar, &c., with a thorough teacher and guide amid all the varied and intricate processes of this business.—N. O. Picayana.

It were a work of supererogation to praise a book of Mons. Lacour's writing. The volume before us is remarkable for its completeness and the exact practical directions which it gives. Old manufacturers will find all of the old modes entirely superseded. The use of the old formulas would appear as the "foam of folly' in the presence of the new ones suggested in this work. One of the principal objects appears to be to avoid, as far as possible, the use of appearatus or expensive (to the operator) appliances of any kind in the manufacture of liquors, &c.—New York Times.

This volume contains the art of preparing and put ting up the whole list of drinkables, from a cnoice pipe of Otard Dupuy, of the vintage of 1785, to a simple and economical manner of making cider without apples, by fermentation. A friend has applied the recipe for converting 25 gallons of whisky into 40 gallons with the most satisfactory results. The latter quality does not possess an equal amount of intoxicating properties to the former, though the 40 gallons was of a much fine color, taste, and dor.—New Fork Mechanic.

This much talked of book is at hand. It contains a mass of information that is perfectly astonishing, and could only have been acquired from actual observation. If you wish to see ingenuity applied, look in a copy of Lacour on Liquor. Practicability appears to have been the design of the author. No delays are necessary to ascertain the results of an application of a recipe. We speak from actual observation. Phil. Sun.

This work will revolutionize the presentityle of manufacturing liquors.—New York Herald.

Lacour's book for instructing in the art of making and bottling effervescing temperance beverages, liquors, wines, and pure vinegar for the table, should be in the hands of every housekeeper in the country. The copyright forbids, or we would give our readers, this morning, some of the mos Quit Drinking Poisonous Liquors!

Formaking all kinds of Liquors and Vinegar,

Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, Rose Gin, Swan Gin, Eng-lish Gin, &c.

LACOUK'S CONCENTRATED ACID will, in five hours after being mixed, change five gallons of good Vinegar and twenty-five gallons of water, to thirty gal lons of the most acid Vinegar that can be found in the market. By the use of Lacour's Concentrated Acid, Vinegar can be made for one dollar and sixty cents per barrel. Vinegar can be made for one dollar and sixty cents per barrel.

FOR MAKING LIQUORS, Lacour's Oils require no preparation—only pouring the Oil into the Whisky and shake well. The Liquids thus made will have a fine natural aroma—a full, rich, oily taste—a beautiful transparent color and a fine bead. Lacour's Oils exert three distinct properties in converting common Whisky to Brandy, Gin, &c. The first property combines with and subsides in the form of Floculent particles the whole of the grain oil, (Amylic Alcohol.) The whisky is thus deprived of that peculiar irritating and burning taste, and becomes a neutral spirit; the second property consists in an oily mucilaginous taste impared to the Liquor, which renders it mellow, and imparts an appearance of great age; the third property is exhibited in the rich, vinous, nutry odor that is imparted to the Liquor, which renders distinction from the Genuine Brands impossible.
